PROCEEDINGS

Dublin, May 12th, 9:30 o'clock.

The convention was called to order by Gen. A. J. Twiggs, of Augusta, and opened with prayer by Rev. L. J. Hill, of Dublin.

Addresses of welcome were delivered: In behalf of the City of Dublin, by Mayor L. Q. Stubbs; in behalf of the churches of Dublin, by Rev. J. G. Patton; in behalf of the United Daughters of the Confederacy, by Mrs. T. J. Pritchett; in behalf of the Children of the Confederacy, by Miss Adeline Baum.

Greetings were given from the Georgia Division of the U. D. C. by Mrs. Frank Harrold, in the following telegram, dated at Americus, Ga., which read:

Illness compels me to send and not bring my message. The Daughters of the Confederacy of Georgia send greetings to the United Confederate Veterans, praying God's blessing upon each of you and again assuring you of their immeasurable gratitude, for the courage, achievements and sacrifices you made in the past. With best wishes to all for a most enjoyable reunion.

(Signed) MRS. FRANK HARROLD.

Greetings from the Children of Confederacy were given by Master Baum Dreyer; from the Sons of Veterans, by Adjutant General Carl Hinton, of Denver, Colorado, whose greetings were more in the form of an eloquent and impressive address and an appeal to the sons to join the Sons of Veterans organization.

Responses to these addresses of welcome and greetings were made by Gen. J. A. Thomas, Commander, and the convention was turned over by Gen. Twiggs to him.

The first proceeding of the meeting was to appoint a committee, composed of Gen. John W. Clark, of Augusta, and B. F. Brimberry, of Albany, and Gen. B. D. Morgan, of Savannah, to draft suitable resolutions touching the death of Chaplain Lansing Burrows, of Americus, and Adj. Gen. Wm. Mickle, of New Orleans.

The Commander appointed the following Committee on Credentials: Chaplain D. D. Hammock, Col. S. H. Mays and Col. M. G. Murchison.

The reading of the minutes of the reunion held at Dawson, was on motion dispensed with.

The following suggestion from Harry Stillwell Edwards, to Gen. Thomas, was read:

"I am taking the liberty of suggesting that you have someone draw and the assembly pass a resolution calling on all Georgia Representatives and Senators in the United States Congress to insist that the names of Southern Generals be placed on the American Parthenon being erected at Arlington."

The suggestion was referred to the Committee on Legislation.

THE AFTERNOON SESSION

The convention reassembled in the court house at 2:30 o'clock.

The Committee on Credentials reported that eighty-two camps were represented at the convention, with one hundred and fifty-seven duly accredited delegates.

The report was adopted.

The official ladies, sponsors, chaperons and maids of honor were introduced as shown on the official program and amid loud applause.

The convention then took a recess until to-morrow morning at 9:30.

The convention assembled at 9:30 o'clock on the morning of May 13th, and was opened with prayer by Assistant Chaplain Hammock.

The following telegram, addressed to Miss Adeline Baum and dated at Charlotte, N. C., was read:

With tenderest love for each Confederate Veteran and the United Daughters of the Confederacy. I am sending greetings, and although far away, I feel bound by the mystic love which is as great as the distance which divides us, and will ever link my life with yours. I love the men who wore the gray, and still feeling myself a part of Dublin extend to you a royal welcome. May God bless and make this reunion a great joy to you, and may the roses of peace and gladness full of glory fill your lives always. With sincere affection and loyalty,

Faithfully,

(Signed) MRS. C. E. LA FRAGE.

The following telegram, dated Atlanta, Ga., addressed to the Commander of Georgia Confederate Veterans, was also read:

Deeply regretting my inability to be with you in Dublin, I send greetings from the Atlanta Chapter, U. D. C., to the dear old Soldiers of the South. With my wish for a delightful meeting and your safe return to your homes. Georgia's heart is in Dublin to-day.

(Signed) MRS. W. S. COLEMAN.

The following resolution offered by Comrade J. L. Scruggs and twenty-five others, was referred to the Committee on Legislation:

Whereas, our ranks are being rapidly depleted by death; and,

Whereas, many of our numbers are totally unable to earn a living on account of failing strength and defective eyesight; and,

Whereas, many of the widows of old soldiers are deprived of the benefit of the pension fund by the time limit of marriage;

Be it resolved by the United Confederate Veterans of the State of Georgia assembled in annual session in the beautiful City of Dublin, the Gem of the Oconee,

First, That we ask the General Assembly of Georgia to honor themselves and the memory of those who fell in the struggle between the States, and do at least partial justice to the few remaining heroes of the sixties by passing a law paying each old soldier not less than one hundred and fifty dollars per annum;

Second, That the time limit of the marriage of widows be removed so that every widow of an old Confederate soldier shall be eligible to a pension;

Third, That a bill be passed making an appropriation sufficient to pay the pension to all the counties of the State at the same time;

Fourth, That the Dublin papers be asked to publish these resolutions with the request that all the papers of the State republish them; and,

Fifth, That we see and try to influence our representatives in both the Senate and House to pass these bills. (See report of committee for amendment.)

The following resolution, offered by Comrade Edward J. Thomas, Commander of Camp No. 756, of Savannah, and a former member of the Fifth Georgia Cavalry, was referred to the Committee on Legislation:

Whereas, The Cavalry of Georgia have no separate organization, the cavalrymen all being members of the various camps, and

Whereas, At our meetings it looks ridiculous to see the cavalry represented by a Brigadier-General, Chief of Staff, and a half a dozen young ladies; these, and only these.

Therefore Be it Resolved, by the Georgia Division, that the position of the Brigadier-General of Cavalry be abolished."

After some discussion, in which several of the comrades took part, a motion that the resolution be tabled was carried.

A committee, composed of Georgia Hillyer, chairman, S. H. Mays and B. F. Brimberry, appointed at the meeting at Dawson, made the following report:

The Committee on Legislation begs leave to submit the following report to be made before the approaching Confederate Reunion to be held at Dublin, Ga., on the 11th instant:

The resolutions touching the pension problem, adopted one year ago at Dawson, were laid before the General Assembly of the State of Georgia when that body met in June, 1919. After full discussion before the Appropriation Committee of the House of Representatives, that body adopted resolutions substantially the same in meaning and recital as embodied in your action at Dawson, by a unanimous vote of the House of Representatives.

When the same resolutions came up before the Senate, considerable debate occurred in the committee of that body. There was similar discussion and varying views when the matter came up for action in the Senate. But the resolutions were adopted by a decided majority. Next day on a motion to reconsider the matter was again discussed even more fully than on the former occasion, and the resolutions were finally confirmed by rejecting the motion to reconsider on a vote almost unanimous.

Your committee here making this report beg leave to add that they were present carrying out your wishes and urging the action taken to the best of their ability. These resolutions will of course be found in the printed volume of Legislative Acts, 1919. It will be noticed that on the suggestion of your committee a provision was added directing that copies be furnished to the Governors of each of the Confederate States, which action we take it for granted was promptly carried into effect. We are credible informed that the same important matter, with fair and just action sought by Congress, has been laid before that body in Washington and is yet pending before appropriate committees of both Houses. We submit the suggestion as to whether it would not be wise and proper for this present reunion to send a committee to Washington or forward appropriately framed written statement of the facts and merits of the problem, for consideration by both the House and the Senate of the United States Congress.

The report was adopted and the following committee was appointed to carry out the purposes of the same: A. J. Sheppard, John W. Clark, M. G. Murchison, S. H. Mays and B. F. Brimberry.

On the adoption of the report, at the suggestion of Gen. Thomas, Gen. George Hillyer was appointed a committee of one to represent the Georgia Division in this and any other matter that might be necessary at Washington.

The committee appointed to draft resolutions on the death of Comrades Burrows and Mickle and to furnish newspapers with such resolutions as they may draft, was granted further time and to report their action at the next meeting.

The following telegram from Governor Hugh M. Dorsey was read and applauded:

"Wish to tender you and through you to the assembled Confederate Veterans of Georgia assurances of esteem and best wishes. I am sure I speak for all Georgians in wishing you all a happy reunion and that you may be spared many years yet."

The Committee on Legislation recommended the adoption of the resolution offered by Comrade Scruggs and others, with the recommendation that the amount of pension to be paid each old soldier be not less than $240.00 per annum instead of $150.00 per annum, and that the second paragraph of said resolution read as follows: "That the time limit for the marriage of widows be removed so that every widow of a Confederate soldier shall be eligible for a pension.

The report was adopted.

The same committee, reporting on the suggestion of Harry Stillwell Edwards that the names of the Southern Generals be placed in the Parthenon at Arlington, made the following report:

Whereas, The Congress of the United States is about to erect at Arlington, Va., a memorial building commensurate with the dignity and greatness of the Union, to perpetuate the names of American leaders, who have on the field of battle illustrated American manhood, courage and supreme devotion to principle, and

Whereas, The published list of names selected for this high honor does not embrace the name of any officer of the Southern Confederacy, be it

Resolved, That we request of all Georgia Senators and Congressmen that they immediately take steps to have the names of Robert E. Lee and "Stonewall" Jackson included.

The report was adopted.

The Commander appointed the following committee to make known the wishes of this convention, as expressed in the resolution, to Congress: Gen. D. B. Morgan, of Savannah; E. L. Neel, of Thomasville; T. J. Sheppard, of Atlanta.

The Committee on Legislation, composed of Gen. George Hillyer, Col. S. H. Mays, Col. B. F. Brimberry, submitted the following report as to a revision of the Constitution and By-Laws of the Georgia Division:

We, your Committee appointed to revise and amend the Constitution and By-Laws of The Georgia Division of United Confederate Veterans, beg to submit the following report:

We recommend that Section 3 of Article II be amended in the second line by striking out the word "five" and insert the word "ten" in lieu thereof; which would make said Section read as follows:

3. Camps will be required to pay annually a per capita of ten cents to the General Treasurer of the Division, or his assistant, to be used in paying the expenses of the Adjutant-General's office, the same to be paid thirty days before the meeting of the Convention.

We recommend that Article III be amended as follows in order to embrace and distribute all new Counties, and others that have not been enumerated, to be divided as follows:

ARTICLE III

Organization and Officers

1. The Division is hereby divided into four Brigades as follows:

Camps in the following Counties compose the South Georgia Brigade—

Calhoun, Early, Miller, Baker, Mitchell, Decatur, Thomas, Worth, Colquitt, Brooks, Lowndes, Wilcox, Irwin, Telfair, Coffee, Clinch, Echols, Montgomery, Appling, Pierce, Effingham, Bryan, Chatham, McIntosh, Glynn, Camden, Tift, Grady, Ben Hill, Jeff Davis, Turner, Toombs, Ware, Tattnall, Liberty, Wayne, Charlton, Screven, Bulloch, Bacon, Evans, Berrien, Wheeler.

Camps in the following Counties compose the Western Georgia Brigade—

Carroll, Heard, Troup, Harris, Muscogee, Chattahoochee, Stewart, Quitman, Randolph, Clay Coweta, Meriwether, Talbot, Marion, Webster, Terrell, Henry, Spalding, Pike, Upson, Taylor, Schley, Sumter, Lee, Butts, Crawford, Houston Dooly Macon, Crisp, Dougherty.

We recommend that Clayton County, which appears in both Western and North Georgia Brigades, be stricken from the Western.

Camps in the following Counties compose the Eastern Georgia Brigade—

Camps in the following Counties compose the North Georgia Brigade—

Dade, Catoosa, Walker, Chattooga, Floyd, Polk, Haralson, Whitfield, Murray, Bartow, Paulding, Fannin, Gilmer, Pickens, Cherokee, Cobb, Union, Lumpkin, Dawson, Forsyth, Milton, Hall, Towns, White, Jackson, Rabun, Habersham, Franklin, Newton, Clayton, Fulton, DeKalb, Gwinnett, Douglas, Walton, Gordon, Barrow, Campbell, Fayette, Rockdale, Stephens.

6. Each Brigade may assemble in convention and adopt rules and regulations for its government not inconsistent with this Constitution; and transfers of any Camp from one Brigade to another may be made by the Major-General on application of the Camp and the consent of the Brigadier-Generals of the two Brigades affected.

ARTICLE IV

Officers

We recommend that Article IV be amended by adding the following to Section 1, "and no Major-General shall be elected to succeed himself," so that the same when amended shall read as follows:

1. There shall be one Major-General commanding the Division and one Brigadier-General commanding each Brigade. The General shall be elected by the Delegates from the Camps within the Division in convention assembled, and the Brigadier-General shall be elected by the Delegates from the Camps of the Brigades when assembled in Brigade convention, each Brigade holding a separate election of its own officers. All these officers shall be elected annually. Vacancies therein shall be filled until the next election by appointment of the General commanding the United Confederate Veterans. Vacancies in Brigadier commands shall be filled by the Division Commander. The annual term of officers elected under this section shall begin at the close of the convention by which the election was held, and they shall hold their offices until their successors are elected and commissioned. And no Major-General shall be elected to succeed himself.

ARTICLE VII

In order to make uniform and limit the number of lady attaches, we recommend that Article VII be added to, and made a part of, this Constitution and By-Laws, viz.:

"The Commander shall have the following Matrons, Chaperons, Sponsors, and Maids of Honor, limited to seven in all, to be appointed by the Major-General Commander," viz., one Matron, one Chaperon, one Sponsor and four Maids of Honor, and that each Brigade shall be allowed the same lady attaches, limited to seven, to be appointed by the Brigade Commander.

The Color Bearer shall have the right to appoint one Sponsor and two Maids of Honor, limited to three in all, on his staff as Color Guards.

On motion the report on the amendment of Section 2, Article IV, as to officers of the Division and terms thereof, making the Major-General ineligible to succeed himself, was not adopted.

The amendment of article VII, limiting the number of Matrons, Sponsors and Maids for the Color Bearer, was amended by striking out "one Sponsor, two Maids of Honor, limit, three in all," and substituting therefor the right to appoint as many Sponsors and Maids of Honor as is allowed each Brigade Commander, seven in all. The report was then adopted as a whole.

At this juncture the Commander introduced Mrs. Rogers, of Tennille, Ga., Past President of the U. D. C., who unfolded for the benefit of the Veterans a miniature Confederate flag, which, she said, was the first Confederate flag that ever floated in the breeze.

The place of meeting for the next reunion was not decided, there being no invitations on hand. The selection of the place was left to the Commander and the Adjutant-General of the Division, who will give due notice of their selection.

The convention then went into the election of a Commander. Col. T. J. Sheppard, of Atlanta, nominated Gen. A. J. Twiggs, of Augusta, for that position, but the nomination was declined by Gen. Twiggs supporting the re-election of Gen. Thomas. Gen. Morgan being in the chair, several motions were made to elect Gen. Thomas by acclamation, and this was done by a rising vote, amid much applause.

The several Brigades then went into the election of their Commanders, with the following results:

For the Northern Brigade, Col. T. J. Sheppard.

For the Southern Brigade, Gen. D. B. Morgan, of Savannah.

For the Eastern Brigade, Gen. A. J. Twiggs, of Augusta.

For the Western Brigade, Gen. B. N. Barrow, of Griffin.

For the Cavalry Brigade, Col. M. G. Murchison, of Tennille.

The Committee on Resolutions offered the following resolution, which was adopted by a rising vote:

Whereas, The good people of the City of Dublin, the Gem of the Oconee and a most beautiful city viewed from every angle, have exerted themselves to make the stay of the Veterans as pleasant as lies within the power of human beings to make it, and not only in the way of entertainment of every kind, but in the way of courtesy and hospitality; therefore be it

Resolved, That the thanks of the Grizzled Boys in Gray, in full appreciation of this treatment, hereby, out of their full hearts, beg to return their unqualified thanks, not only to the people of Dublin in general, but to the good women and children composing the U. D. C. and the U. C. C. and the noble women of Dublin in general; and not forgetting the Boy Scouts whose care for and attention to the old soldiers was unremitting, wishing each and all the blessings that God can bestow upon them.

After singing "God Be With You Till We Meet Again" the convention adjourned.

IN MEMORIAM

We, your Committee on Memorial to our late Comrade, Dr. Lansing Burrows, beg to report as follows:

A brave spirit passed from earth when death closed the eyes of Comrade Lansing Burrows. He was only sick a few days and his family and friends did not feel alarmed at his illness until he had passed away. He died at the hospital in Americus, Ga., October 17, 1919, age 77. Dr. Burrows was born in Philadelphia, Pa., April 10, 1842, son of Rev. J. L. Burrows, a distinguished Baptist minister. He was graduated from Wake College, N. C., being a member of the class of '61. He enlisted in the Confederate service April 25, 1861, as a sergeant of the Fayette Artillery of Richmond, Va., and was captured at Winchester, Va., September 19, 1864, being confined in Fort Delaware as a prisoner of war until nearly the close of the war, when he was discharged from a Federal hospital. He again joined the Confederate forces in their retreat to Appomattox, where with others of Gen. Lee's army, he was paroled.

He was ordained a Baptist preacher in April, 1867, and his first charge was the church of Stanford, Ky. Afterwards he was pastor of churches at Lexington, Mo., Bordentown, N. J., Newark, N. J., Lexington, Ky., Augusta, Ga., Nashville, Tenn., and Americus, Ga., which charge he resigned some time before his death in order to take up less laborious work.

As a scholar he won many degrees and was an educator of first rank. He received the degree of A. M. from Princeton College and Madison University, New York, and the degree of D. D. from Bethel College, Kentucky. He married Miss Loulie Rochester, of Danville, Ky., at the age of 19. She has been dead many years. A daughter and son survive him.

He was a ripe scholar, had traveled extensively, and visited the Holy Land several times, and written many valued books. He was a man of rare ability, deep spirituality, strong faith, noble purpose. His life was one of constant activity in the service of God and his fellow-men. His will was lost in the will of God. A nation is made greater by ever keeping before the young the examples of its noblest citizens. We in Georgia would select no better life than that of Dr. Lansing Burrows for our youth to model their lives upon. As he was so would we have all Georgians and all Americans to be. Great would America be if we all could go to our graves with such a record as a Christian, as a soldier, as a citizen, as a husband, as a father, and as a friend. Long may he be remembered and long from his silent grave may he teach to the coming generation a lesson of courage and devotion of love and faith. In looking back over his life we find it a flame of that civilization which we call the Old South, of which the English poet wrote:

"Ah, realm of tears, but let her bear
This blazon to the end of time.
No nation rose so white and fair,
None fell so pure of crime."

Dr. Burrows, whose church work has been spectacular, had received many honors, but the last which came to him was the one which he had cherished as highly as the greatest. It was just before the recent Reunion of Confederate Veterans in Atlanta that he received notice of his appointment of Chaplain General with rank of Colonel of the Department of Tennessee, U. C. V.

Therefore be it resolved by his companions in Arms of the Georgia Division, U. C. V., assembled at Dublin, Ga., May 12, 1920, that we look back to the life and career of Dr. Lansing Burrows as a Christian gentleman, a gallant citizen, a model soldier, with honorable pride, feeling that he has reflected credit upon his country and those who were fortunate enough to have been associated with him, that the State and community have derived great benefit from his active, honorable Christian life, filled with useful service and inspiring examples.

Be it further resolved that a copy of this preamble and resolution be incorporated into the proceedings of our convention and a copy furnished the Confederate Veteran and a copy be sent to the son, John Rochester Burroughs, Nashville, Tenn., and daughter, Mrs. G. C. Mays, Albany, Ga.

B. F. BRIMBERRY,
JOHN W. CLARK,
D. B. MORGAN,
Committee.

CONSTITUTION AND BY-LAWS OF GEORGIA DIVISION, UNITED CONFEDERATE VETERANS

With Amendments Adopted at Dublin, May 12-13, 1920.

The several camps of the Georgia Division, United Confederate Veterans, in the State of Georgia, represented by delegates in convention assembled at Savannah this 22d day of November, 1899, do adopt and ordain the following Constitution and By-Laws for the government of the organization known as the Georgia Division of the United Confederate Veterans, and we hereby reaffirm and declare our adherence to the Constitution and By-Laws of the organization of Confederates, known as the "United Confederate Veterans' Association."

ARTICLE I

The objects of this organization shall be to promote comradeship among Confederate soldiers and sailors; to collect, preserve and file valuable data for the true history of the Confederate struggle; to protect our children from all false history; to encourage the writing and publishing of the history of each Confederate command which went from Georgia to the war, and to have prepared for preservation in each county, and especially in the archives of the State, the record of every soldier and sailor residing in this State. Other great objects and purposes shall be to assist our needy living comrades and the widows and orphans of such as are deceased; to aid in marking the graves and building monuments to our Confederate dead; to render proper funeral tributes to those who hereafter depart this life; to faithfully observe a memorial day by every Camp in every year, and to celebrate the birthdays of Jefferson Davis and Robert E. Lee.

ARTICLE II

Membership

1. The membership of this division shall be by camps. Each camp shall be composed of twenty or more members, who have given satisfactory proof of honorable service in the Confederate army or navy, but in sparsely settled counties they may organize with ten members.

2. Each camp shall be entitled to at least two delegates at any convention of the division; and the general representation of each camp shall be by one delegate for every twenty members in good standing; one additional delegate for the fraction above ten members. The Major-General and staff and Brigadier-General and staff shall be ex-officio members of the convention.

3. Camps will be required to pay annually a per capita of ten cents to the general treasurer of the division, or his assistant, to be used in paying the expenses of the Adjutant-General's office, the same to be paid thirty days before the meeting of the convention.

ARTICLE III

Organization and Officers

1. The division is hereby divided into four brigades as follows:

Camps in the following Counties compose the South Georgia Brigade—

Camps in the following Counties compose the Western Georgia Brigade—

Carroll, Heard, Troup, Harris, Muscogee, Chattahoochee, Stewart, Quitman, Randolph, Clay, Coweta, Meriwether, Talbot, Marion, Webster, Terrell, Henry, Spalding, Pike, Upson, Taylor, Schley, Sumter, Lee, Butts, Crawford, Houston, Dooly, Macon, Crisp, Dougherty.

We recommend that Clayton County, which appears in both Western and North Georgia Brigade be stricken from the Western.

Camps in the following Counties compose the Eastern Georgia Brigade—

Camps in the following Counties compose the North Georgia Brigade—

Dade, Catoosa, Walker, Chattooga, Floyd, Polk, Haralson, Whitfield, Murray, Bartow, Paulding, Fannin, Gilmer, Pickens, Cherokee, Cobb, Union, Lumpkin, Dawson, Forsyth, Milton, Hall, Towns, White, Jackson, Rabun, Habersham, Franklin, Newton, Clayton, Fulton, DeKalb, Gwinnett, Douglas, Walton, Gordon, Barrow, Campbell, Fayette, Rockdale, Stephens.

6. Each Brigade may assemble in convention and adopt rules and regulations for its government not inconsistent with this Constitution; and transfers of any camp from one Brigade to another may be made by the Major-General on application of the camp and the consent of the Brigadier-Generals of the two Brigades affected.

ARTICLE IV

Officers

1. There shall be one Major-General commanding the division, and one Brigadier-General commanding each brigade. The General shall be elected by the delegates from the camps within the division in convention assembled, and the Brigadier-General shall be elected by the delegates from the camps of the brigades when assembled in brigade convention, each brigade holding a separate election of its own officers. All these officers shall be elected annually. Vacancies therein shall be filled until the next election by appointment of the general commanding the United Confederate Veterans. Vacancies in brigadier commander shall be filled by the division commander. The annual term of officers elected under this section shall begin at the close of the convention by which the election was held, and they shall hold their offices until their successors are elected and commissioned.

2. The staff officers of the division commander shall be appointed by himself as follows:

Permanent Adjutant-General, chief of staff; two assistant Adjutant-Generals.

One Inspector-General.

One Quartermaster-General.

One Commissary-General.

One Surgeon-General.

One Judge-Advocate-General.

One Chaplain.

One Chief Engineer, and such aides as he may deem necessary.

3. The staff of each Brigadier-General appointed by himself shall be

One Adjutant-General, chief of staff.

One Inspector-General.

One Quartermaster-General.

One Commissary-General.

One Judge-Advocate.

One Surgeon.

One Chaplain and such aides as he may require. The rank of staff officers shall be such as is prescribed by the Constitution of the United Confederate Veterans.

4. The division commander shall appoint a custodian of Confederate records, whose duty it shall be to collect, compile and preserve records and other data relating to the times of the Confederate war. Each camp commander shall appoint a historian, who shall assist the custodian in his duties. The division shall also elect annually a secretary to keep the minutes of its meetings, and also a treasurer to receive and pay out its funds upon proper vouchers approved by the division commander, and such other officers as may be found necessary from time to time.

5. Camp officers shall be: Commander, First, Second, Third, and Fourth Lieutenant Commanders, Adjutant, Quartermaster, Commissary, Officer of the Day, Treasurer, Sergeant-Major, Vidette, Color-Sergeant, and two Color Guards.

ARTICLE V

Seals, Badges, etc.

The seal, badges, commissions and special powers of the divisions and brigades shall not be contrary to Article VII and Article VIII of the Constitution of the United Confederate Veterans. The division, brigades and camps shall observe the prohibition in Article IX of the General Constitution of all discussion of political subjects, and of all political action, and of all controversy about religion; and no debt shall be contracted by either the division or any brigade.

ARTICLE VI

Amendments

Alterations and amendments of this Constitution may be made at the annual convention of the division, by a two-thirds vote, provided a notice and copy of the proposed change shall be sent to each camp at least two months in advance of the annual meeting.

ARTICLE VII

Sponsors, etc.

The commander shall have the following matrons, chaperons, sponsors, and maids of honor, limited to seven in all, to be appointed by the Major-General Commander, viz., one matron, one chaperon, one sponsor and four maids of honor and that each brigade shall be allowed the same lady attaches, limited to seven, to be appointed by the brigade commander.

The Color Bearer shall have the right to appoint one sponsor, matrons and maids of honor, limited to seven in all, on his staff as Color Guards.

BY-LAWS

1. The division shall have an annual convention and reunion at a place chosen by the preceding annual convention. In case no place or time shall be designated by the convention, the division commander shall be authorized to appoint both or either. Special meetings may be called by the Major-General on request of a majority of the camps, or in any emergency.

2. The division shall be called to order by the Major-General commanding, and the proceedings shall be opened by religious services. After the addresses of welcome and response, the Major-General shall cause the roll of camps and the number of delegates to which each camp is entitled to be called, and after due authentication the delegates shall be recognized and the convention shall be declared ready to proceed to business.

3. There shall be four standing committees.

The Historical Committee, composed of three from each brigade, to have charge of all matters pertaining to the historical purposes of the division, and to co-operate with the Historical Committee of the United Confederate Veterans.

Relief Committee of three from each brigade in charge of all questions of relief, pensions, soldiers' homes and other benevolent purposes.

A Memorial Committee of three in each brigade, on Memorial Day, monuments, soldiers' graves, the observance of the birthday of Lee in the State of Georgia, and any other matter relating to tributes to our Confederate dead.

Records Committee of one from each Congressional district, to collect and provide for safe-keeping of all Confederate records and relics.

Committee of one from each camp on the records of the several Confederate commands and of individual soldiers and sailors to be collected and preserved.

These committees shall be nominated by the brigade commanders and elected by the convention. In default of election they shall be appointed by the division commander.

A Finance Committee of five members, composed of one from each brigade and one from the division at large, all elected by the division, shall be a standing committee.

All standing committees shall be elected annually and report at least annually. On the adoption of the Constitution and By-Laws at the present session, temporary committees for the session shall be appointed by the Major-General commanding, or by a vote of the convention.

Permanent headquarters shall be located at Macon.

ORDER OF BUSINESS

The Order of Business, after the present session, shall be as follows:

The opening service and other ceremonies.

Call of the roll of camps and authentication of credentials of delegates.

Reading minutes, appointment of committees, elections.

Introduction of Resolutions.

Reports of committees.

Unfinished business.

Adjournment.

1. All Camps of the Georgia Division, U. C. V., will promptly remit their dues of 10c for each member to General A. B. Booth, Adjutant-General, New Orleans, La.

2. The next General Reunion will be held in the City of Houston, Texas, October 6th to 10th, 1920.

3. Your Commander is anxious that the Georgia Division maintains its former fine record for the number of paid dues and for the number in attendance at the General Reunion, and hopes that each Camp will have its proper number of delegates in attendance.

4. All the General Officers and Staff Officers are especially requested to promptly remit to General Booth their annual dues, for the reason that the expenses of the general office require and demand the payment of these dues annually.

5. And it is ordered that each Camp and each Brigade Commander and each member of the General Staff of the Georgia Division, U. C. V., be furnished a copy of this Order.

By command of Major-General Jas. A. Thomas.

Adjutant-General.
